IT 161: History and historiography of Greek art: issues in methodology and research (Seminar) | Professor Evgenios D. Matthiopoulos

The seminar will critically study the history and historiography of Greek art during the 19th and 20th centuries. The course will include an analysis of the most important artistic movements and ideological trends that were adopted from the Western art and essentially assimilated in or competed against the existing artistic traditions. In addition, the relevant theoretical and methodological problems that arise during the study/research of the related bibliography will be highlighted and the direction of contemporary research paths will be presented and discussed.
